NF BACKS ASIANS 'GIVE US OUR OWN SCHOOLS'

ASIANS are leading the way in rejecting the multi-racial "melting pot" plans of the liberal race haters. Thousands of Asian parents up and down the country want to see their children brought up to learn about their own culture, language and heritage, rather than being forced to become rootless "Brown Britons".

The Tory government has joined with Labour councils to try to block the Asian demand that their taxes be used to finance their own schools.

But in spite of such system opposition, there are now over 20 Asian only schools in Britain and the campaign to set up more is getting stronger all the time.

The National Front support the Asians' demand for their own schools as we do with similar demands from Black separatists. We have been working with Black and Asian separatists for a number of years for the benefit of all.

The race haters want to destroy our separate and cherished identities by forcing us all to live together. They don't care about the inevitable frustration, fear, hatred and violence which results. The politicians, police chiefs and media bosses don't have to live with the problems that they create. It is ordinary people like us who suffer.

HOME AFFAIRS, ANALYSIS & COMMENT

NATIONALISM
OR DISASTER

GOVERNMENT claims that nuclear power presents a solution to the environmental problem of "global warming" by cutting CO₂ emissions, have been challenged by a Dr. Nigel Mortimer.

Department of Energy statements claiming reductions of CO₂ released into the atmosphere of between 5.5% and 11.5% seem to be unjustified. Dr. Mortimer's energy analysis findings demonstrate that nuclear power gives off four times more CO₂ than comparable electricity from renewable energy sources such as windpower.

Meanwhile, the disposal of radioactive waste dumping continues to alarm the nation at large, with 63% of people listing nuclear waste as one of their most important ecological worries (Mori poll). This is unsurprising as the safe underground disposal of such a dangerous substance is still very much a grey area. Yet U.K. NIREX is continuing its search for possible storage sites, with a list of 500 areas now narrowed down to 12.

FRAUDULANT

It is now obvious that the Conservative "commitment" to a Green future is fraudulent; yet another shallow attempt to appease popular discontent over increasing environmental destruction by making concerned noises but actually doing very little. The Establishment is no more interested in preserving our once "green and pleasant land" than they are in saving the ethnic cultures of England, Ulster, Scotland, Wales, Mannin or Cornwall.

By contrast, nationalism aims for both the survival and protection of the natural and man-made heritage of our islands.

POLITICAL PROSTITUTES

"OUR JOB IS TO
MAKE CAPITALISM
MORE EFFICIENT."

The words of a Tory Cabinet Minister perhaps? No, Neil Kinnock lecturing the Labour Party National Executive recently. He drowned on "The Capitalist system is the system we live in and we have got to make it work more efficiently, more fairly and more successfully in the world market place".

The political prostitutes who make up the leadership of the Labour party are turning themselves inside out in their efforts to out-Tory the Tories!

If ever proof were needed that 'our' parliamentary democracy is a farce offering no choice to the peoples of the British nations then here it is. The Conservatives push Capitalism, Labour push no alternative but tell us they can run a Capitalist state better than the Tories!

Grovelling for acceptance from the media and Big Business, Labour are prepared to ditch any 'principles' they may have had left and this without even consulting the grass roots membership of the party. They will instead be expected to 'rubber stamp' the new policy statement at their annual conference.

Kinnock's commitment to unilateralism has long been the cement that has bonded the Labour Left to the Labour moderates (so called). Now unilateralism is to be ditched because it is not 'popular'. Instead of arguing their case as men of principal and trying to persuade people of the right of their case they have simply abandoned principles and adopted policies that seem to be popular. Brilliant!

Will this spineless pandering to the whims of the opinion polls mean a Labour government next time around?

To those of us who have seen through the lie that "Parliamentary Democracy = Choice = Freedom", it is a matter of indifference. We will continue to build the National Revolution. Steadily and on solid foundations. To those men and women of principle still in the Labour party, and yes even now there are still some, we say join us. To those who are even now trying to con the people of the British nations for the umpteenth time we say get out of our way and stay out of our way.

You no longer threaten the status quo and so are described by the Tory press as 'electable'. We National Revolutionaries can find no more damning indictment of you.

WO WIR
STEHEN

NATIONALE FREIHEIT

Britannien ist eine familie der Nationen - England, Wales, Scotland, Kernow, Mannin, Ireland und Ulster sind durch blut und geschichte verknüpft. Die menschen von allen nationen haben ein unveräusserliches recht zu ihrer selbstbestimmung und ihre volkischen kulturen und traditionen zu bewahren. Wir sehnen uns schon nach dem tag wenn Ireland sich freiwillig der zukünftigen föderierten Britischen familie wieder anschliesst.

RASSEN TRENNUNG

Rasse ist der haupt entscheidende faktor der nationalität. Rassisch gemischte gesellschaften können keine Nation bilden und sind daher instabil. Keine rasse ist der anderen rasse überlegen, aber sie sind alle verschieden. Rassenintegration bedroht alle rassen. Menschliche repatriierung ist besser für uns alle als die endlosen unterdrückungen und rassenkrawalle.

SOCIALE GERECHTIGKEIT

Die nation ist eine grosse familie. Jedes mitglied unserer nationalen familie hat das absolute recht zur betreuung durch die nation, wenn jung, krank oder alt. Da muss es dieselben gelegenheiten für jeden geben, aber keine unverdienten vorrechte für.

WOHL VERTEILTES EIGENTUM

Die realistische gelegenheit sein eigenes heim und arbeitsplatz zu besitzen ist das recht aller unserer burger. Direkter besitz der mittel der production und verteilung sind wichtig für persönliche freiheit, für die stabilität der familie und für den besten gebrauch unserer nationalen bodenschätze.

VERNUNFT IN DER
GELDWIRTSCHAFT

Das rechte kredite zu schaffen, welche für die wirtschaft notwendig sind, gehört der volksregierung. Die banken welche dieses recht an sich gerissen haben, müssen ihre ungerechten gewinne und macht entzogen bekommen. Die National Schuld ist auf wucherei gebaut und muss zurückgewiesen werden.

Every so often we publish our regular "Where We Stand" column in a foreign language. This is done in order to help our comrades throughout Europe build a viable Third Position in their respective nations.

The column in this issue is published in German.

ACHTUNG DER NATUR

Wir verwalten die umwelt als treuhänder für zukünftige generationen. Die verunreinigung des landes, des meeres, der luft und des gen stocks durch strahlungsenergie ist ein bruch dieses vertrauens.

VOLKSHERRSCHAFT

Parlamentarische vertretung ist betrug. Das Parteien regierungs system ist ein mantel für die diktatur von althergebrachten unabdingbaren intressen und der media chiefs. Die regierung muss in der hand des volkes selber sein, durch neue Information Technologie und der wahl von deligierten, welche die wünsche des volkes ausführen. Macht muss zur möglichst niedrigsten ebene übertragen werden.

DAS BEWAFFNETE VOLK

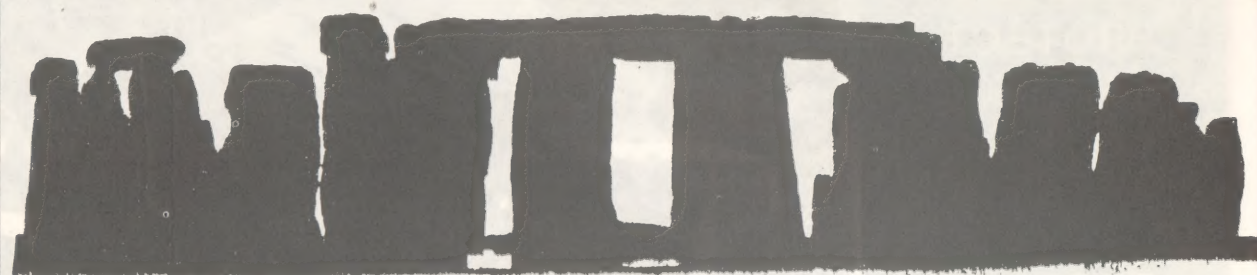

Die freiheiten welche durch diese prinzipien gegeben sind müssen auch verteidigt werden, durch bewaffnete neutralität mit einer gut ausgerüsteten nationalen verteidigungs streitkraft, welche die ganze erwachsene bevölkerung einschliesst. Macht, Reichtum und Waffen in die hande des volkes.

REVOLUTION AN STATT
REFORM

Diese umstellungen können nicht durch das herumbasteln mit dem system erzielt werden, oder verlass auf des systems eigenen institutionen wie Parlament, schulen oder die gerichte. Sie können nur durch eine Nationale Revolution entstehen. Diese Revolution muss in den herzen der einzelnen anfangen und sich dann durch ihre beispiele verbreiten und ganze gemeinschaften in die revolutionären gliederungen hineinziehen sowie alternative rate, schulen, nachbarschafts streifen und selbst hilfe gruppen.

DER DRITTE WEG

Das erwachen von diesen ideen in einer Nation nach der anderen, zeigt dass eine neue aufstrebende kraft sich in der welt erhebt für das 21 zigste jahrhundert. Dieser Dritte Weg, welcher den unfruchtbaren hass des Kapitalismus und Kommunismus zurück lässt, bietet eine wirkliche zukunft für alle unserer menschen. Wir fordern alle auf, welche mit diesen prinzipien einverstanden sind, sich uns anzuschliessen und zu streben die National Front aufzubauen - als die Bewegung der Zukunft.

STONES BANNED AFTER
HIPPIY HIPPIY SHAKE

YET again the police have prevented people from enjoying the summer solstice at Stonehenge.

No big deal in itself you might think. Only a few hippies getting knocked about and fined a couple of quid. WRONG! the hippies did not pose a threat to public order. Indeed the trouble every year is largely provoked by a massive, aggressive police presence

To deal with a few hundred travellers and hippies, more than 800 policemen (many in full riot gear) enforced a 4 mile no-go area.

Amazingly this no-go area also applied to local residents and passing through motorists. People who lived in the area were not allowed to go to their own homes by uniformed bully boys who were "only following orders". More than 250 people were arrested and half of them were charged under section 13 of the 1986 Public Order Act, which banned groups of two or more people from going within four miles of the ancient monument.

Our friendly police force were practicing. Practicing what you may ask? Practicing rounding up large numbers of citizens is the answer; getting the public used to the idea that the police will seal off villages, towns, cities if they wish, and then do as they please.

They are refining techniques learned during the miners strike. Preparing to deal with any dissatisfied sections of the population, who make their feelings known. Who next? It was hippies today, who tomorrow? The dockers? The railmen? Anti-Poll Tax protesters? Anyone who opposes the State? Anyone who opposes the government? Anyone who speaks out?

Are these policemen, tied to the System by their mortgages, good wages, pensions and some by a love of the chance to legally crack a few heads, protecting you from the lawbreaker?

Less and less everyday is the answer. You know yourself that they have no interest in dealing with burglary or car theft for example in most inner-city areas.

More and more the role of the police is and will become a "duty" to defend the State and its masters from YOU the aggrieved citizen.

Let them NOW take notice we the people will achieve power, arms and wealth in spite of you. The armed people will protect themselves from you. They will not be interested in crawling up the backsides of treacherous politicians, in search of a title or promotion (and that is on the level)

Your victimisation of the people of these islands, be it miner or unemployed kid on a street corner will not be forgotten. And if you are in any doubt as to the ultimate outcome of events, look behind you, at the grey little men you will be protecting and remember:

*They have given us into the hand of new unhappy Lords.
Lords without anger and honour, who dare not carry their swords.
They fight by shuffling papers; they have bright dead alien eyes;
They look at our labour and laughter as a tired man looks at flies.
And the load of their loveless pity is worse than the ancient wrongs,
Their doors are shut in the evening; and they know no songs.*

HOME AFFAIRS, ANALYSIS & COMMENT

WE'VE HAD ENOUGH!

THREE AND A HALF MILLION Hong Kong Chinese are headed for Britain. Politicians and the media are working flat out to "soften up" public opinion to get us to accept the plan to flood our country under a Yellow tidal wave.

They waffle on about how it is "our" duty to accept this in order to make up for the riches that a few City parasites have made from Hong Kong in the past. But the real reason is that the Chinese are seen as yet another wave of cheap labour to keep the system in profit for a few more years.

Once again, of course, the native British peoples are not being asked whether or not we want our country changed out of all recognition. This is in spite of all the appalling problems caused by the massed Black and Asian immigration which took place in the same underhand way during the fifties and sixties.

Even while those problems are getting worse, our rulers are planning to allow millions of Chinese to pour into our overcrowded land. This is madness! We don't have enough jobs, enough teachers, enough hospital beds or enough houses.

There is too much poverty, crime and squalor here already. We've had enough - it's as simple as that.

We've had enough alien culture forced down the throats of our children.

We've had enough of our traditional values and laws being perverted so as to be more acceptable to foreigners, who naturally enough want to maintain their own traditions and values, even though they now live here.

We've had enough of rich politicians and media personalities preaching about the wonders of multi-racism from their safe country mansions.

Multi-cultural madness at a British school. Scenes like this will become even more common if we allow another three and a half million immigrants to come here.

We've had enough of being ignored.

We've had enough!

We can't take any more.
We won't take any more!

ANOTHER FINE MESS

THE threatened Hong Kong tidal wave has its origins in the sordid past of the "British" empire. After opening up China to foreign trade at gunpoint in the last century, the Victorian Establishment persuaded the Chinese Imperial government to grant "us" Hong Kong on a 100 year lease.

Yet the past doesn't only explain why we in Britain are now threatened with an Asiatic invasion which will destroy our European culture and identity forever. It also shows us that there is a sensible alternative which doesn't involve handing Hong Kong over to the bloodthirsty Communist regime in China.

For the brutal regime established by Mao in 1949 has no relationship with the Imperial Chinese government which leased Hong Kong to Britain in the first place.

The old Imperial dynasty was swept aside at the start of this century by a movement of students and patriots who wanted to see their country developed on more democratic lines.

The Nationalist Chinese government they created was weakened by the Japanese invasion and after the Second World War they were abandoned by their American "allies". They were defeated by the Communists whose brutal rule has lasted until today.

NON-MARXIST REPUBLIC

But the remnants of the Nationalist government established a non-Marxist Chinese republic on the island of Taiwan. Today Taiwan has a strong economy and enough military muscle to keep the Red Army at bay.

The Nationalist regime was often corrupt and the modern state which has been built in Taiwan is a Capitalist one with all the usual faults. But the government there is clearly far more entitled to be seen as the legitimate successor to the old Imperial system than are the Communists.

Independence for Hong Kong doesn't seem to be a viable option, as the island is so tiny and would be unable to defend itself against invasion from the Communist mainland. And in any case, most of its residents are proud to be Chinese and see their ideal future as reunification with China - once the Red butchers are overthrown.

REALISTIC

This is also the hope of the Taiwanese, and it would clearly be a more realistic one if the many people who are not prepared to stay in Hong Kong under Communist rule after 1997 were resettled in Taiwan, not the other side of the world in London, Glasgow and Belfast.

Sovereignty over Hong Kong should therefore pass to Taiwan in 1997. And in the remaining years before then, anti-Communist activists in Hong Kong should be given every possible assistance in their campaign to bring about a new Chinese revolution which will end the martyrdom of their country by brutal Communism.

PIERRE HOFSTETTER: IN MEMORIAM

THERE are few journalists of international renown who are committed to an uncompromising exposure of the truth, and fewer still who are friends of the National Front and its holy cause. Yet Pierre Hofstetter, journalist and writer, was both of these.

Born in Lausanne in Switzerland in 1929, Mr Hofstetter was from an early age someone who was clearly intent on entering the writing profession, with the expressed purpose of telling it "like it is." The strength of feeling that was to characterize his writing can be found in his earliest writings - even Suisse-Europe which he founded and edited at the age of just 16.

Pierre Hofstetter wrote for dozens of newspapers all over the world, and the extent of his knowledge was such he became "a journalist's journalist." He was, indeed, one of the first people to bring out into the open the One World machinations of the conglomerate of bankers, politicians and manipulators that make up the Trilateral Commission.

He wrote a number of successful books including The Disturbing American Development and The United Nations: Danger! These books made their impact despite attempts at boycotts by the enemies of Truth.

His friendship for the National Front reaches right back to its foundation by A.K. Chesterton, a man whom Mr Hofstetter respected and worked with over the years. It was one of Pierre's last requests that his extensive files - composed of newspaper cuttings, magazines, journals, bulletins and so forth - built up over a journalistic career of 50 years be passed on to the National Front for its continued use. It is thanks to his family that we are now making use of that bequest.

It is on this first anniversary of the death of Pierre Hofstetter, political analyst and journalist, that we remember that some live and work for the truth all their lives. Their task completed, it is passed on to us to continue the noblest of Traditions - the Defence of Truth.

CRACK OF DOOM

CRACK, the highly addictive and deadly drug based on cocaine, is about to explode into Britain. It has already been found in drugs raids in London and Birmingham, as well as in smaller and more well-to-do towns such as Shrewsbury.

Crack addiction has swept America, causing a massive increase in crimes such as robbery and violence. In some areas it has caused what can only be described as a total collapse of the social order.

Now that the U.S. market for this white-crystallised death is approaching saturation point, the Latin American drug cartels are turning their attention to Europe.

Customs seizures of cocaine at our ports have doubled since last year, but cuts in staffing levels and the huge profits to be made from crack mean that customs officers are being overwhelmed.

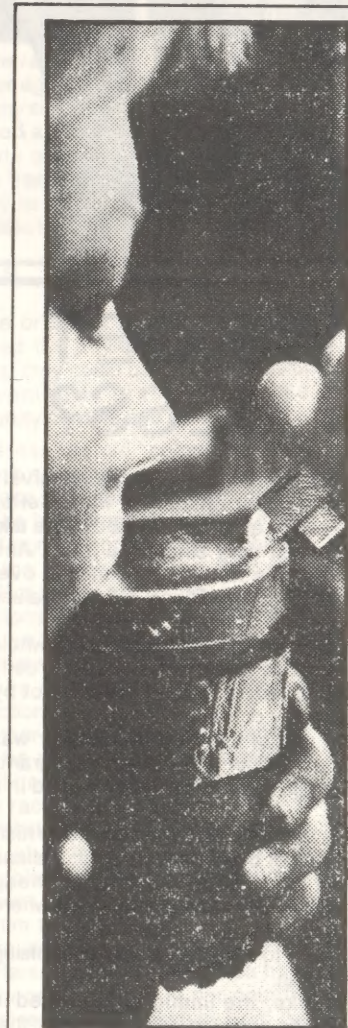

"BIGGEST SINGLE THREAT"

The government understand just how dangerous the crack problem is going to be. Tim Eggar, junior minister at the Foreign Office, has just told a Home Office drugs seminar that crack "is by far the single biggest threat that faces the UK. It is worse in its social implications than the threat posed by any known disease."

And his fellow Tory minister Douglas Hogg announced that his recent visit to the US had convinced him that "there is a sizeable risk that crack will develop in this country in a very big way." He pointed out that the drug is highly addictive, spreads quickly, and destabilises any society on which it gets a grip.

Mr. Eggar reported that it is feared that the drug traffickers are about to achieve the critical mass of cocaine in this country to allow them to start the long production runs used to produce crack. Once the stuff hits the streets, the epidemic will take off within weeks.

Yet incredibly, after all these warnings from its junior ministers, the government still hasn't bothered to organise a co-ordinated response. The Home Office is "examining proposals for a national drugs agency but it has yet to be decided whether it will be advisory or have executive powers, whether it should span several Whitehall departments, and whether the private sector should be involved."

PARLIAMENT DITHERS

So in the face of the "single greatest threat" to our youth and our society, all our parliamentary masters can do is dither over whether anti-drugs measures can be privatised!

Nor are the opposition parties any better, for they have not even bothered to ask questions in the House about this pitifully inadequate response.

What is needed is quite simple:

The death penalty for cocaine importers, crack manufacturers and pushers.

In addition, the unfortunate addicts themselves pose such a risk to society that they must be isolated in rehabilitation centres.

CRACK PLAGUE

What matters is that the crack plague is crushed before it can get a grip on our people.

Yet unless these measures are announced before the end of this summer, it will be too late. And of course, they won't be, because the politicians and the judges don't feel personally at risk, and because the police chiefs would rather use crack as an excuse for more police powers than call for effective sentences.

So there is no doubt that the State is going to fail our nations once again. This means that ordinary people must act instead.

Crack is going to destroy hundreds of thousands of our young people. The pushers are going to dehumanise and murder our sons and daughters, our brothers and sisters.

DEADLY FORCE

The threat is deadly, so if the State continues to fail to do something effective about it, the response of ordinary people must be deadly too. Our communities will be entitled to use whatever force is necessary to stop the crack plague.

If the police won't close down crack dens, local residents should close them down in whatever way proves necessary.

If the courts won't use tough enough sentences to take addicts out of society, ordinary people should remove this deadly threat from their families by putting them in hospital.

"The name Israel conjures up differing images to different people. To some it is the scene of the Birth of Christianity and to others, The Middle East which is often at war." So writes Sam Smith of Sam Smith Travel, Cardiff in the Cardiff Independent of June 7, 1989. He goes on, "Tourists to Israel are seldom, if ever, troubled by the unrest which we hear about so much. Problems are usually isolated to the ghetto areas of East Jerusalem and the West Bank or the Gaza strip and it is very unusual for tourists to be involved."

Isn't it reassuring to know that people who book with Sam are unlikely to have to endure the screams of Palestinian children being tortured by Israeli soldiers or have tear-gas float into their plush hotel rooms (which might as well be a million miles away from the "ghetto areas" where the Palestinians live)? If you want a cheap holiday on other peoples misery - Sam is your man!

WE hear that a recent BNP seminar in a Leeds hotel was attacked by a drunken horde from the equally reactionary Flag group.

Their 'leader' was forced to engage in an unseemly brawl with the Flag organiser 'Beefy' Taylor. Two BNP members were taken to hospital including the local organiser with a knife wound.

Whilst we are fundamentally opposed to the BNP we draw the line at such violent and cowardly behaviour. To attack a meeting partly composed of the elderly and women and children, after condemning the left of the same, is also extremely hypocritical.

It was inevitable that the low-life of the Flag would turn to physical attacks on the BNP as the latter has been increasingly successful in recruiting from the dying Flag. In fact we hear that two Leeds members were beaten up recently for daring to consider changing sides.

As the Flag continue bashing BNP members they shouldn't expect any sympathy if they bite off more than they can chew!

IF you have ever wondered how Members of the European Parliament justify their grossly overpaid salaries, then Labour group member Glyn Ford is the man to ask. Ford who lives at 3 Market Place, Ashton Under Lyne, Lancashire, OL6 7JD, spends most of his time in the European Parliament attempting to persecute and fabricate 'cases' against innocent nationalists such as the exiled Italian refugee Roberto Fiore.

Unsurprisingly, Ford works in close liason with the CP/intelligence services backed smear-sheet Searchlight. Amongst other things Ford is also largely responsible for the dangerously misleading and dishonest publication "Against Racism and Facism in Europe". This was edited by ... wait for it ... Time Out political editor and close friend and ally of Searchlight, Andrew Bell.

If readers are wondering why Mr Ford is given so much money, courtesy of the European Parliament, for his particular brand of 'parliamentary representation', they may like to ask him direct on 061-330 9299.

REMEMBER the controversy over the name "Greenwave"? At one stage there was talk of legal action by a Mr Wilkinson against the NF for allegedly using this name. In fact Greenwave is an independent ecological campaigning body which welcomes support from all quarters, including the NF.

Some of our opponents were claiming gleefully that the "NF had stolen the name and will now have to drop it." But in fact Mr Wilkinson has now changed the name of his group to "Target 2000". We wish him well. Greenwave rolls on and it still welcomes NF support!

THE NF AND IMMIGRANT SEPARATISTS ARE ASKING PEOPLE TO JOIN US IN

SOLVING YORKSHIRE'S RACIAL PROBLEMS

BRADFORD - THE NEXT BELFAST?

YORKSHIRE, more than any other part of Britain, faces a rapidly escalating racial crisis. The events of recent months have shown that the idea that the ethnic minorities can be peacefully assimilated to become "Brown and Black Britons" is as unrealistic as it is racist.

We never wanted to have our culture displaced by alien festivals and values. So why should people of Asian and African descent be any more willing to see their separate and cherished identities submerged in our society?

Also dead is the idea that we can build a "multi-cultural" society where schools and communities celebrate every racial group's religious festivals and accommodate everyone's values and traditions. The goddess of Free Speech cannot satisfy devout Muslims whose religion has been viciously attacked by a rootless and atheistic individual like Salman Rushdie. Nor can the "ganja" and "Back to Africa" message of the Rastafarians do anything other than lead to clashes with the police and laws of a society which overwhelmingly rejects any drugs other than alcohol, tobacco and tranquilisers.

BEAR THE BRUNT

Our schools have borne the brunt of the multi-racist drive to mix up our cultures and traditional values. Children whose English ancestors have lived Christian and culturally European lives in Yorkshire for over a thousand years have been forced to learn Asian languages and take part in Hindu and Muslim religious festivals or in West Indian reggae carnivals.

At the same time, Muslim parents in particular have watched in horror as their children are indoctrinated with modern Western consumerism, picking up the liberal ways of our value-less society.

All this was, and is, so unnatural that it was bound to end in tears. And over the last few months events have shown everyone that it has done just that.

First the Rushdie affair brought home to Muslims just how much their religious beliefs clash with the views of the political Establishment ruling Britain. Their reaction to this - huge marches, book-burning and attacking bookshops - has in turn led many ordinary Yorkshire people to understand how the few quiet and hardworking immigrants of the 1950's and 60's have now become a second nation in what has always been our land.

GROWING TENSION

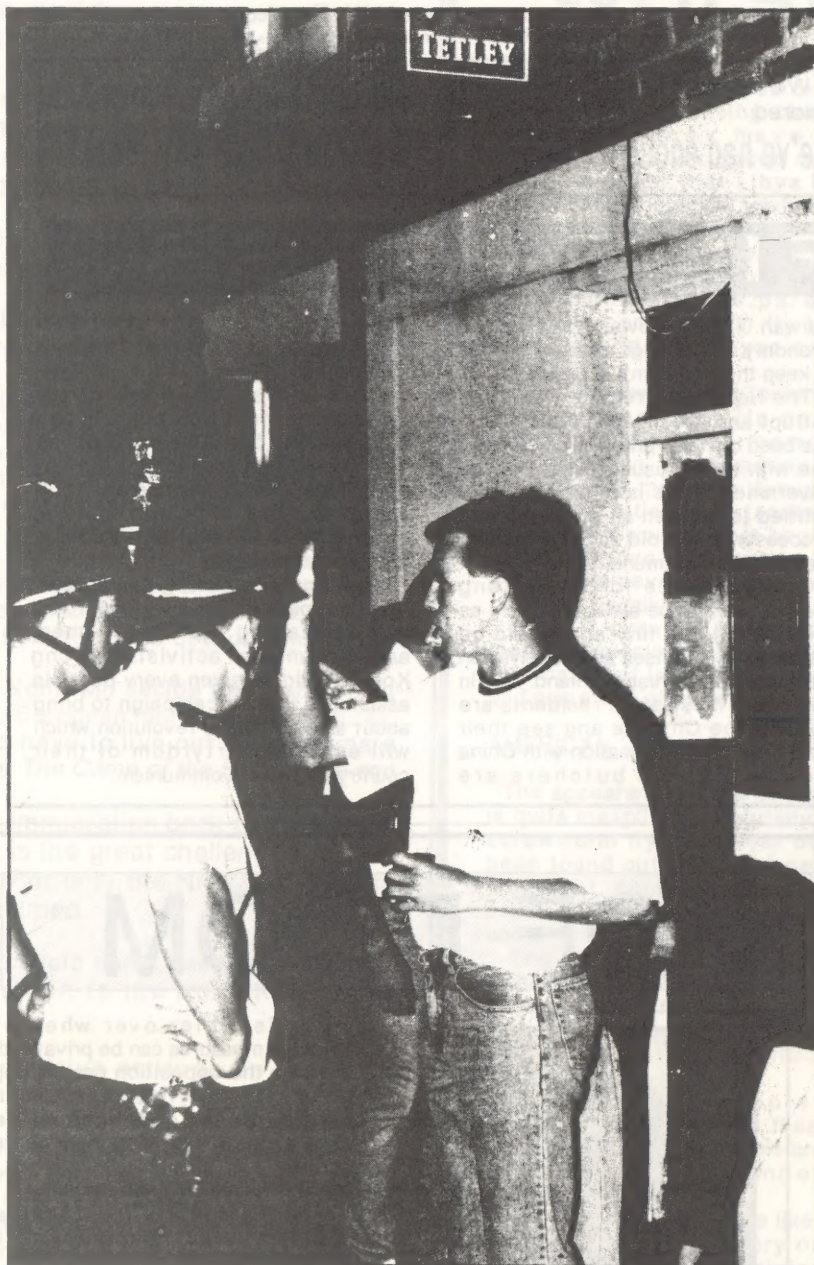

On top of this, we have seen growing tension over demands by Muslim, White and Black parents for their children to have the right to be educated according to their own values, in schools among their own kind, by teachers from their own background.

The pot has been getting hotter for several years, but now it's starting to boil. First the trouble caused by the Labour-controlled Local Education Authority's refusal to allow English kids to attend a White school led to a big increase in racial attacks in Dewsbury last year. Then we saw clashes between young Muslims and the police on the anti-Rushdie marches in towns like Bradford. Now we are seeing more and more serious racial clashes in Dewsbury and areas of Bradford like West Bowling.

Things may calm down a little as the hot summer ends, but the problem won't go away. The multi-racial society is going to explode in an orgy of violence. The only question is when?

You can go into any one of dozens of White pubs in West Yorkshire and hear desperate people who see their towns and country being taken over by foreigners talking about "getting the guns out". On the other hand, Asian Youth Groups are being formed to organize street fighting gangs to "defend" immigrant areas and "deal with White racists".

The situation is getting out of hand. It wouldn't take much to turn Bradford into another Belfast, West Yorkshire into another Northern Ireland. Something has got to be done.

HOW DID WE GET INTO THIS MESS?

UNTIL 1948, Yorkshire, like the rest of Britain, was almost exclusively peopled by folk of European stock. Whether our ancestors were Celts, Romans, Saxons, Vikings or Normans, they were all closely related tribes and peoples from common racial origins and with very similar cultures. And because of these common roots these peoples were able to merge over thousands of years to form one nation, with shared traditions, religion, values and hopes for the future.

While individuals in a community might fall out, the community as a whole was united. Large scale inter-communal violence was impossible. An orderly life within the community was maintained largely through consent, not by repression and police riot vans standing on every corner.

A wave of coloured immigration at the end of the First World War was quickly reversed after clashes between West Indian and African immigrants and returning servicemen left dozens of people dead or seriously injured in a number of British cities.

So Britain remained European until the Labour Party passed the British Nationality Act of 1948. This led to hundreds of boat loads of West Indians coming to Britain on a false promise of material prosperity as cheap non-unionised labour, particularly to do jobs in the service industries where employers and the government were too greedy to pay a decent wage.

And then the big mill owners saw the chance to boost profits by advertising for cheap immigrant labour in India and Pakistan.

Under Labour and Tory governments alike, the immigrants poured in throughout the 1950's, '60's and '70's. Public concern grew so much that Maggie Thatcher was elected in 1979 mainly because she said that she understood why ordinary British people felt that they were being "swamped" by immigration.

But within a month of being elected on an anti-immigration ticket, Thatcher let in an extra 17,000 Vietnamese boat people. Immigration has continued and so has the drive to keep the immigrants happy by giving them all sorts of special benefits. This has ranged from preferential treatment on council job applications and housing to cosy chats and huge grants from Prince Charles.

And now, when the whole policy is clearly leading to disaster, the Tories and the opposition parties are working together to bring over three and a half million Hong Kong Chinese.

No wonder immigration is back at the top of the political agenda in racially-divided Yorkshire.

TOGETHER WE CAN LIVE APART

THE first step on the road to peaceful racial separation is for members of the different religions and communities to meet and talk frankly about the problems as their people see them. Only by talking honestly and openly can we begin to understand the problems and work out solutions.

This cannot be done through any existing channels such as the Commission for Racial Equality, political parties or police Neighbourhood Watch Schemes. The bureaucrats and time-servers involved in such operations are committed multi-racists whose only interest is to push forced racial integration and to paper over the cracks for as long as possible.

Instead, we must start from scratch to build a popular grass-roots alliance of racial separatists. The National Front has been working on building such links with Black and Asian separatists for several years now, but the time is at hand to stop talking about working together and to find issues on which we can really do so.

Accordingly, we invite the readers of this broadsheet - whatever your race or creed - to contact us if you agree with what we have to say.

We've been working for peace and mutual respect between the races since dramatic changes in the NF over three years ago. Isn't it time that you did something to stop our towns sinking into a whirlpool of racial hatred and violence?

We also urge people who may not be willing or able to associate openly with our Movement to look for opportunities to speak out in support of members of other races who are demanding the basic human right to live, learn and work with their own people.

It's all we ask - it's all we need.

SEPARATE CULTURES - SEPARATE SCHOOLS - SEPARATE LIVES

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

THE only solution to the racial chaos, terror and heartbreak that we will witness in these islands is the humane and financially assisted repatriation programme, that will need to be put into operation over a large number of years, that the NF has consistently advocated.

It could start now if our political masters acknowledge that their multi-racial experiment has been a terrible mistake. Then they could get together with the leaders of the immigrant communities and with the governments of their own home countries to work out a massive programme of phased repatriation.

This would be expensive and would undoubtedly cause some cases of individual heartbreak, but it is a far better solution than the alternative which is tooling up the police and army to deal with the horrific race war which is inevitable if this is not done.

But the chances of such a programme being introduced by our political masters are zero. It will only happen when the National Front is in a position to implement it.

So if ordinary people want to do something to avoid a race war disaster in Yorkshire now, we have to start on a far smaller scale.

We are faced with a choice of four paths:

1) ROSE-COLOURED SPECTACLES

We can pretend that the current violent clashes are just the birth-pangs of a wonderful Brave New World where all races get along wonderfully when forced on top of each other, enriching each others' cultures and watching pigs fly. We can dream of the glorious day when all races, cultures, languages, traditions and heritage have disappeared in a melting pot of drab uniformity.

This juvenile dream died once and for all on the day that Salman Rushdie published his cheap and nasty Satanic Verses. No-one can possibly believe that "hoping for the best" is now a viable option.

2) RACIAL VIOLENCE

This is the other extreme on the lunatic scale. Its advocates - and there are far more than sane people would like to think - believe that small-scale street violence can be "wound up" into bigger incidents which could escalate into communal civil war.

They hope that the White population would then be forced to fight and would win because Whites are still in the overall majority.

This line can most often be heard from young people on the "front line" who actually believe the liberal media lies about the NF "organizing racial violence", but who have never had any contact with our Movement. So they do not know that we in fact condemn aggressive violence and offer a peaceful solution to racial antagonism and the resulting hatred and violence.

Racial violence is also something supported by racist groups who seek to gain support by going into an area, adding fuel to the flames of racial tension for the sake of a day's publicity, and then going back home many miles away.

This gives them a boost, but it is local people who have to put up with the days of violence, weeks of tension and months of extra aggressive policing which follow.

Violence might sometimes seem an attractive and easy solution. But if you think so, then think again. For violence is far easier to start than it is to stop. It might seem attractive in theory, but what about if it's your home which gets burnt out? Your brother or sister beaten to a pulp coming home from school? Your mother or father killed by a vengeful mob?

Surely there's a better way than that?

The final point against communal violence is this: It doesn't work. It has been going on in Ulster for twenty years, and while the war there is the IRA's fault, neither community is blameless by a long way.

The lesson of Ulster is that political and communal violence brings nothing but misery, death and repression. The only grouping to have gained from it all is the Westminster State, which now has the most effective and repressive security force in the Western world.

And ultimately, this is the same force which is ever-ready to defend the sick multi-racial system in Yorkshire. The idea of playing that force at its own game and winning is another juvenile fantasy.

3) APATHY

Faced with what we've said above, many people may be tempted to conclude that there is nothing that ordinary folk can do, except try to keep out of the way of trouble themselves.

It is clear that most people are in this position at present. Everyone with any contact with reality knows that West Yorkshire in particular is on the brink of racial chaos. "But what can I do? And why should I be bothered anyway?"

The answer to that is that there is plenty that anybody can do to start getting us out of the mess into which our rulers in parliament and the press have got us into.

And ordinary people should be bothered. For a start, it's only our country, and we only have the remaining freedoms and rights that we do enjoy because our forefathers could be bothered.

If this still doesn't make you think, then think about what sort of future you will be passing on to your children and grandchildren. If we give up now our generation will be cursed by those who follow us for generations to come.

More immediately, it is ordinary people in ordinary streets who get hurt in communal violence, not the politicians or police chiefs in their security guarded offices and their plush country homes.

If you want to see the effects of racial and communal violence, just look at what has happened recently between Christians and Muslims in the Soviet Union; between Arabs and Africans in Senegal; between Sikhs and Hindus in India or between Catholics and Protestants in Ulster.

It's always the same: it's people like you who get hurt, families like yours which suffer the most. You can't say that you are not involved. Everyone in Yorkshire is involved - so we've all got to work together to find a way out of the mess.

4) RACIAL SEPARATISM - THE WAY AHEAD

Racial hatred is caused by different groups being forced to mix with each other and share the same crowded spaces. The politicians, media bosses and Big Business tycoons who created this situation won't do anything to alter it. But that doesn't mean that we have to put up with it.

Take the example of schooling which has caused so much trouble in Dewsbury.

Who was the enemy of the English parents who wanted their young children to go to a White, Christian school, rather than to a multi-racial multi-cultural one where they would be forced to learn about Hindu religious festivals and be kept in the dark as to their own religion and cultural and ethnic roots?

The subsequent rise in racial attacks shows that some White youngsters blamed the Asians for the trouble. Yet the truth is that the Dewsbury Muslim Parents' Association supported the demands of the White parents.

This is hardly surprising since the Whites were only asking for what the Asians have already done for themselves in 20 Muslim-only schools around Britain.

The real enemy of the English parents was the council's Labour-controlled Education Authority which did everything it could to force the brave group to back down. And it is the same Labour Party hacks who are seeking to deny Asians the right to bring their children up to retain their own culture and traditions too.

Leeds Labour MP Derek Fatchett chaired Labour's working party which recently issued a report on ways in which they could block Asian demands for separate schools.

Fatchett called the report "a radical commitment to multi-cultural education."

What this really means was soon found out by the Zakaria girls' school in Batley, which is the biggest Muslim school in the country. Labour-controlled Kirklees council promptly used the report to justify its decision to refuse grant aid to the school. Parents therefore have to pay twice for their daughters' education - once through rates and taxes and once privately in order to get the education they actually want.

RACES AGREE

In the end, the Dewsbury Whites won their case, whilst the Batley Asians are still fighting theirs. But isn't it absurd that both struggles should have led to increased racial tension when both races in fact agreed in wanting the same thing?

There are groups of parents and children of different races (including West Indians) throughout Yorkshire who want separate schools, but the authorities bully most of them into silence by accusing them of being "racist". Yet, in reality, it is the council policy of forced integration which does more than anything else to promote race hate.

But imagine that White, Asian and Black parents linked up and together launched a campaign for the right to separate schools. Who could attack that as "racist"? What politician would dare try to frustrate the wishes of the entire electorate?

POWER

Once ordinary people found that they had the power to get separate schools, they could use the facilities in the evening to provide separate community centres and social clubs.

Whereas the old "colour bar" was often based on prejudice and ignorance, this new racial separatism would be based upon preference and mutual agreement. It would be based upon the understanding that it is beneficial to all of us and the aspirations we have for our children. It would be based upon the desire to save the rich and unique races and cultures of mankind from forced destruction.

Another way to ease racial tension would be to use the well-established council house exchange procedure to create racially homogeneous streets and estates. The minority on any street always feels alienated and vulnerable. People who are secure in their own patch are far less likely to fall victim to race hatred.

There are many such areas in which the different communities which have been forced together in our country could disengage themselves from the enforced close contact which causes so much bitterness and tension, until the only real solution - repatriation - can be instituted.

POLICE OBSOLETE

The different races would cease to see each other as a threat and learn that they could work together for the right to live separately. Once this was done the heavy police presence needed to keep the already warring factions apart would be obsolete.

BECOME A FRIEND OF THE MOVEMENT

IT'S THE LEAST YOU CAN DO!

Britain is on the brink of racial chaos as the Establishment attempts to force the immigrants that they brought here to forget their roots and culture. Britons are on the brink of racial extinction as immigrant birth rates soar and millions more are set to come over. What future have these children without the National Front? What future have your children without the NF? If this saddens you, if it frightens you, if it angers you, then join our struggle by becoming a Friend of the Movement.

To become a member of this association it costs a mere £15 per year - in other words we are asking you to give less than 29 pence a week to help save our country. Surely it's the least you can do!

In return you will receive a FOM card, we will keep you updated with important developments and achievements in our work and you will gain the satisfaction of knowing that you are playing an important part in our struggle. Quite apart from allowing us to carry on with, and expand, our work, Friends of the Movement play the important role of acting as the eyes and ears of the Movement in the population.

I would like to become a Friend of the Movement and enclose a cheque/postal order for £15 in favour of Friends of the Movement.

TIME TO DECIDE TIME TO FIGHT

THE next ten years will decide whether the British nations will live or die. If the Hong Kong flood can be stopped, this will not be enough in itself to ensure the survival of our national and cultural identities. But with the welcome growth of Asian separatism and Black Pride, it will at least give us a realistic hope of ending the disastrous multi-racial experiment to which we have all be subjected.

But if we are engulfed by the threatened tidal wave from Hong Kong the huge numbers of extra immigrants will tip the balance forever against the chance of a peaceful and political end to multi-racism. The power of the immigrant vote would doom any political initiative to restore our land to our own peoples. It would make it impossible to resist the subsequent pressure to allow in the relatives of immigrants already here.

If we accept the Hong Kong Chinese, we will surely end up with the Vietnamese boat people who have themselves been pouring into Hong Kong. And if we, the ordinary British peoples, have to pay for our masters' exploitation of Hong Kong, then we will also be expected to pay for the results of their destruction of the environment. So when millions of Bangladeshis are made homeless by rising sea levels caused by the Greenhouse Effect, how will we be able to refuse them a new home among their cousins already present in their hundreds of thousands in our cities?

What happens over Hong Kong will decide whether we still stand a chance of saving our European identities and cultures, or whether we are going to have to live out the nightmare portrayed in the famous novel The Camp of the Saints - the end of the White world.

So Hong Kong is moving immigration back to the centre of the political stage. This is the great challenge that the National Front must face. For only the NF can save this country from being overwhelmed.

- Only the NF has the household name needed to provide a rallying point for opposition to the Hong Kong tidal wave.

- Only the NF has the positive attitude on race and culture which will allow us to say exactly what is needed on this issue. As soon as the first Hong Kong Chinese arrive here, bigotted right-wing splinter groups will be crushed by the Race Laws. But our position of racial separatism cannot be portrayed as hatred - simply because hatred can logically have no place in separatist politics. We will not be silenced.

- Only the NF has a big enough leadership cadre to be able to expand on firm foundations. Only the NF has the structure and ideological base needed to avoid being swamped by an upturn in public support.

- Only the NF can lead to victory the struggle against the Hong Kong Chinese tidal wave.

But we can only do it if YOU get involved. We've been fighting for these nations of ours for years. We've fought on the hustings; fought in our communities; fought in the schools; fought in the courts; when we've been attacked we've fought in the streets. The National Front has fought for what most people believe in but don't have the guts to say.

But if you want us to win this battle, you are going to have to help. So stop watching the box, stop trying to shut out the real world in a haze of booze. Stop trying to think of excuses to give to your children or grandchildren when they ask you why they have got to grow up as second class citizens and foreigners in their own land.

Stop cringing - start fighting

Help us to organize to stop the Hong Kong Tidal Wave.

WORLD AFFAIRS, ANALYSIS & COMMENT

LIES, DAMN LIES

THE American government has now admitted that the Libyan "chemical warfare plant" which made world headlines at the start of the year is in fact about to start producing harmless pharmaceuticals.

The Yanks and Thatcher had worked themselves into a frenzy over the CIA lie that Libya was building "the largest chemical warfare plant in the world." Threats were made to repeat the terror bombing of Libya.

Libya maintained all along that the plant was for peaceful medical purposes only, but this assertion was treated with contempt by the capitalist media. Allegations about deadly weapons in the hands of "mad dog" Qathafi made lurid front page headlines for days.

"CONVERTED"

But back in March, US officials told The New York Times that the plant was being "converted" to manufacture common pharmaceutical chemicals. They went on to say that US intelligence reports suggested that Colonel Qathafi intended to open the plant to the public in order to discredit the US poison gas allegations.

QATHAFI INNOCENT

Typically, the Yanks tried to conceal their climb-down by claiming that the plant was being "converted" to peaceful purposes, rather than admitting that it was a medicine factory all along. But even they could not conceal any longer the fact that, yet again, Qathafi was innocent of the lurid allegations made against him.

The depths to which the Yanks will stoop to try to discredit opponents of their global Dollar Empire should not surprise anyone. Nor should the fact that the mass media over here have made virtually no mention of the American admission.

For with our "national" broadcasting networks owned and controlled by a handful of capitalists and Zionists like Rupert Murdoch and Robert Maxwell, Qathafi stands as much chance of fair treatment as the National Front.

.... and worse

JUST AS the mass media have ignored the US admission that Libya is not producing chemical weapons, they have also conveniently overlooked reports which suggest that Libya is the victim of US biological warfare.

The evidence for this came in a report in New Scientist (18.2.89). This revealed the mysterious appearance of the parasitic American screwworm fly in the area around the Libyan capital Tripoli.

The screwworm fly (Cochliomyia hominivorax) lays its eggs in wounds on various mammals, including man. The resulting large maggots eat their way through the surrounding tissue, extending the area of the wound. This begins to fester, producing a foul smelling liquid. The severe infection which results is usually fatal.

So far, Libyan and British tropical medicine specialists have recorded four cases of infection in humans and numerous attacks on animals.

AMERICAN DISEASE

The appearance of the fly in Libya is quite inexplicable naturally. The screwworm fly has never before been found outside the American continent, being confined to the south of the USA, Central America and the north of South America.

The only possible way for the fly to have got to Africa, particularly in large enough numbers to take an immediate grip over hundreds of square miles, is by deliberate release.

And the only people with "supplies" of screwworm flies and the sick mentality to do this are the "dirty tricks" department of the CIA.

This is made even more likely by the acknowledged history of the CIA carrying out such biological warfare. In 1981, for example, the Yanks "seeded" rainclouds heading for Cuba with mosquitos carrying the dengue fever virus. Cuba was promptly hit by the mass outbreak of this dangerous disease.

SERIOUS EFFECT

The screwworm fly can only be combatted with a very expensive and sophisticated eradication programme, which is probably beyond the reach of a poor nation like Libya. So it could have a serious effect on the country, as its hosts include cows and chickens. Even worse, human babies are particularly at risk as the fly is attracted to the navels of newly-born infants.

If Uncle Sam Missiles fail - then try biological warfare.

Conditions in North Africa are ideal for the fly to spread for thousands of miles, so the long-term threat goes far beyond the borders of Libya.

The mentality which introduces such a hideous parasite as a means of biological warfare against a little nation of some three million people is beyond the understanding of normal people. Yet such atrocities come as naturally to the CIA as hushing them up comes to the "British" media. Just more sick products of a sick system.

BANKS SAP NIGERIA'S WEALTH

IF YOU thought that we had problems with mortgages and interest rates over here, take a look at the banking rip-off in Nigeria.

Although rich in resources, Nigeria has been forced to borrow vast sums of money abroad in order to develop a capitalist economy. Nigeria now owes £16 billion to the International Monetary Fund (IMF) alone.

Nigeria simply cannot export enough of its real wealth to pay the interest on her debts, let alone start to repay them. Any sane and honest government would tell the vampire banks to go to hell, but the state in Nigeria is riddled with corruption and is firmly in the bankers' pockets.

So the Nigerian government has introduced a Structural Adjustment Programme (SAP) designed to exploit their own people further in the interests of foreign banks.

The most incredible part of the SAP is the "debt equity swap" whereby the £16 billion foreign debt has been swapped for the country's electricity board, transport system and steel industry. So the IMF now owns huge sections of the Nigerian economy.

Now that this has happened once, it opens the way for a repeat performance. The next wave of foreign debt will probably be used to force Nigeria to hand over huge areas of farmland to the banks.

So more and more Nigerians will end up working for a pittance for foreign absentee landlords. Put bluntly, they will become the wage slaves of foreigners in their own country.

HIDDEN HANDS

MANY readers will recall a popular children's glove puppet on TV some years ago, by the name of Basil Brush.

But while Basil Brush was a well-known and loved figure, no-one was deceived into thinking for one moment that this glove fox was real. Everyone of course knew that his voice and every gesture was controlled by some hidden hand.

Unfortunately, the same cannot be said of the public conception of Basil Brush's near namesake and Establishment puppet President George Bush! His creators and masters spare no expense in the effort to convince us all that Bush is a great statesman with ideas of his own, rather than the compliant puppet of Wall Street and the US industrial-military ruling elite.

Perhaps the most ironic part of this campaign came some time ago when the media's political kids show for grown-ups gave widespread coverage to Bush's demand that General Noriega of Panama should stand down as leader of the tiny state. The reason he gave for this was that the Panama elections were not free and democratic and that the results were rigged.

Now it may well be that some form of electoral fraud took place in Panama, but, comparably, this is frankly irrelevant. For the biggest electoral fraud in the world takes place in the Western parliamentary democracies.

The fraud here is that the mass media, owned and controlled by a handful of the super-rich, decide in advance which parties are "approved" for coverage, and which issues are to decide the election.

So while the Panama election was probably a crude and fraudulent farce, we must never forget that the most fraudulent "free" elections of all are held in the "democratic" West.

For if every President or Prime Minister was to take Mr Bush's advice and stand down if "fraudulently" elected, then every President and Prime Minister would resign - including himself!

THE FIRST NATIONAL "OPERATION RESCUE"

A FRIEND OF THE MOVEMENT REPORTS FROM THE FRONT LINE

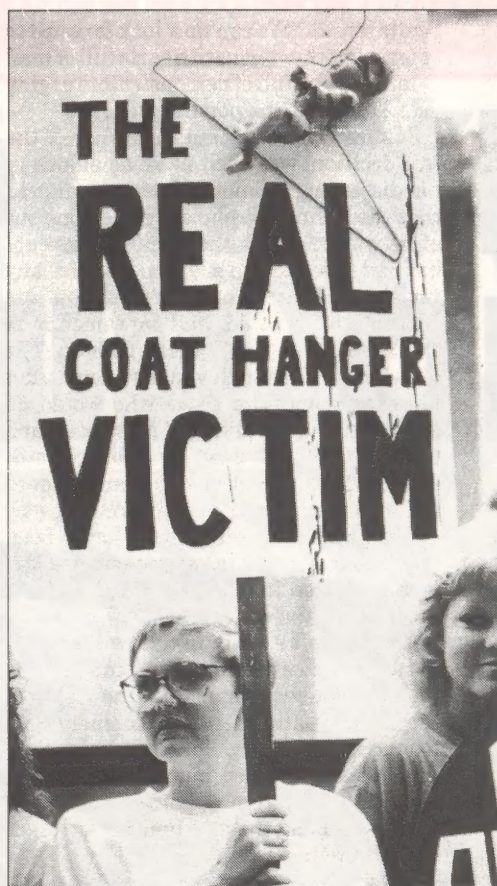

RECENTLY in London the first national "Operation Rescue" took place at an abortion clinic. Twenty three people were arrested and detained for more than three hours after blocking the entrance to the clinic.

This movement, Rescue-Pro-Life Action Network (P.L.A.N.) which describes itself as pro-life, non-violent and committed to direct action started in the U.S.A. several years ago. It has grown steadily and last year 36,000 rescuers were arrested after blockading killing clinics.

A group of Americans and Canadians are now in this country to encourage and advise on establishing this movement over here. Within days of arriving many of these people were already in prison following a rescue at a clinic in Manchester where there has already been several blockades.

On the night before the rescue in London everyone involved met in a hall in North London to get acquainted and was told how the rescue was to be carried out the following day. After an early rise all prepared themselves spiritually for the impending blockade and were then told the name and location of the abortuary. Those willing to be arrested went on ahead, everyone else followed later by car.

Once at the 'clinic' the rescuers immediately positioned themselves in front of the main door. The picketers occupied the pavement and many held banners drawing attention to what happens in the 'clinic'.

After about a quarter of an hour the police arrived in two vans and were clearly irritated at having to deal with an incident so early at the start of the weekend. The rescuers promptly linked arms so as to make it more difficult to be removed. As soon as the police attempted to shift them they went totally limp thus making it necessary for at least two or three police to lift and carry them away. Some who were dumped on the pavement tried to crawl back to the entrance, others successfully managed to crawl out of the vans.

After 45 minutes all the rescuers had been removed. The Duty Officer from the local station then came to speak to the pickets and insisted that they move to the other side of the road so as not to cause a disturbance. They remonstrated with him that the horrifically real disturbance was going on in the clinic - babies were being killed. He said that this was not relevant (I), he had a job to do.

Within half an hour the first women arrived at the clinic. The pavement counsellors tried to talk to them and explain that there are alternatives to abortion. None of the women turned away from the clinic although most appeared to be distressed and were almost dragged in to the abortuary by their boyfriends.

The picketers and counsellors remained outside the clinic for another two hours and then went to the local police station where the rescuers were still being held. As nobody was permitted to wait inside, everyone congregated on the steps outside. Shortly after midday all those being held were released following a caution.

Hopefully these rescues will become frequent occurrences not only in London - the abortion capital of Western Europe - but in every town or city where the slaughter of innocent life is carried out.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

IN the aftermath of last year's outbreaks of Listeria and Salmonella food poisoning the government has decided to capitalise on public concern over food safety by legalising the controversial practice of food irradiation - a process it has been keen to introduce in time for 1992 and the opening up of the Single European Market.

The decision has met with strong opposition from consumer groups, trade unions, food retailers and the British Medical Association, all have shown concern at the lack of sufficient scientific research into the possible health effects of eating irradiated food, as well as the possible effects on the environment.

National opinion polls have shown that over 85% of people will not want to buy irradiated food. Why then has the government legalised this unwanted form of food preservation?

Under pressure to clean up the food production industry the government saw in irradiation a means of eradicating contamination without hitting the profits of the "business farmers" by forcing them to clean up their unhygienic, overcrowded methods of food production, the root cause of contamination.

John Macgregor the minister for Agriculture, is attempting to mislead the public by claiming that irradiation can play an important role in the fight against food poisoning, however many of his claims are not supported by fact:

Macgregor: "Irradiation has an important part to play in the fight against food poisoning, and has been shown to be effective in dealing with Salmonella."

• FACT • Irradiation of chicken will kill Salmonella, but it will also kill off the yeasts and moulds that fight the more serious bacteria that cause botulism food poisoning. Irradiation therefore will only replace Salmonella with botulism (on the day Macgregor made his comments a 76 year old woman died after eating a yoghurt infected with botulism, irradiation could not have prevented her death).

Irradiation can not be used on eggs, the main cause of last years Salmonella outbreak.

Macgregor: "Irradiation does not affect the wholesomeness of food."

• FACT • Irradiation does destroy some of the vitamin content of food, and the extended shelf life made possible by the process can lead to even more nutrient loss. Many foods also need additional additives.

Macgregor: "It is simply nonsense to suggest that the process could be misused to make bad food good."

• FACT • In 1986 several British seafood companies were found to be using irradiation to conceal contamination in prawns, and were importing them illegally into Britain.

Macgregor: "Irradiation cannot improve appearance, it cannot disguise taste, it cannot mask unpleasant odours."

• FACT • Irradiated food looks fresher for longer, it does not sprout like 'natural' food and the process kills the organisms that create the smells that tell us when food is going off. Irradiation is just a means of making contaminated food safe to eat. Without proper labelling it could be passed off as fresh food.

Apart from the government and factory farmers there is another major beneficiary of the introduction of food irradiation - the Nuclear Industry.

Food irradiation uses nuclear waste products, it therefore solves the problem of its disposal. The International Atomic Energy Agency has financed an extensive propaganda campaign aimed at convincing the public that irradiation is safe. The record of countries that are already using irradiation tells a different story. Many have experienced spills of radioactive material and fires. In the U.S.A. companies have been so lax on worker safety that in one case a worker received an almost fatal dose of radiation. Environmental safety regulations have also been violated resulting in radioactive spills leading to the contamination of sewers.

European trade unions are also concerned with the long term effects of working in the irradiation plants. Problems will also arise over the transportation of radioactive materials to the irradiation plants.

The British government is introducing food irradiation into this country, not to improve the quality of our food, but to make the nuclear industry more economically viable by making use of nuclear waste. It will also no doubt make use of the new reactor at Sizewell. Food irradiation is being used to give the nuclear industry a more respectable and environmentally sound use other than the making of bombs. Similarly, nuclear energy is being promoted as the answer to "global warming". It is all part of the Tory plans to promote nuclear expansion.

Food irradiation will do nothing to prevent contamination. Farmers can continue to produce contaminated food safe in the knowledge that irradiation will clear it up and make it edible. So while the farmers and the nuclear industry continue to profit from irradiation it is the public who will have to eat food bombarded with radiation, and it is us who will have to face the environmental and health consequences.

Irradiation will create more problems than it will solve. For example it is uncertain what the reaction will be of irradiation on pesticide residues in fruit and vegetables, but the Tories are willing to try anything rather than admit that the only way to guarantee safe and nutritious food is to revert to natural, traditional methods of farming.

FIGHT THE POLL TAX

Dear Sir/Madam,

COMMUNITY CHARGE (POLL TAX)

Domestic rates are being replaced by the community charge (or poll tax) from next April and I have to compile a Register of those persons who may be liable to pay.

You are legally obliged to provide the information requested on the enclosed form within 21 days from the 22nd May, which for technical reasons is shown as the date of issue. However, I am letting you have the form earlier to give you every opportunity to complete it in the time allowed.

I hope you will not have any difficulty in completing this form and to help you I have enclosed some explanatory notes. If you do have a problem please telephone the number shown on your form and my staff will do all they can to help you.

Yours faithfully,

J H Markham

Community Charge Registration Officer

COUNCILS all over England and Wales are now sending out Poll Tax registration forms.

In spite of their bullying tone, no action can be taken against you for failing to complete and return them. Throw them in the bin! And throw away any reminder you may receive as well! The council can only take action if they can prove that you received the reminder, so until you get one which is sent by recorded delivery, or have one served on you personally by an official - keep throwing them away.

The Poll Tax is unjust and economically ineffective, but it is a good excuse for more State snooping into our everyday lives. So obstruct the Poll Tax while you can.

Remember the Cause in your Will

We wish our readers and supporters a long and healthy life, but for all of us the time for departure must eventually come. We feel that everyone will wish, when this time does arrive, to leave something behind that will help to carry on the struggle.

You can help the Cause when you are gone by making provision in your Will for those who will be doing the fighting after you. You can do this by bequeathing money to the National Front. Make sure you remember the National Front when you make out your Will. If you have already written your Will add a codicil for the benefit of the Movement. If you are unsure about any of the legal technicalities in arranging this, please do not hesitate to contact our Legal Department or see your own solicitor and he or she will advise. A short time ago the National Front benefitted from a substantial amount of money left to it by a deceased supporter. You too can help in this way. Can you think of a better way to go?
